

THE NEW RULES OF PUBLISHING: AN EDITORS' PANEL

To improve lives, we need reliable science. But the social sciences have been caught in a whirlwind of questionable research practices, non-replicable findings, and a flurry of critique. Management researchers, too, have begun a critical self-examination. To assess the situation, we will hear from colleagues who led replications efforts and initiatives at preregistration–preapproval of studies. Prominent researchers will opine and journal editors will report on initiatives considered or implemented in management journals. Members of the audience will chime in with questions and opinions. The workshop aims to spur a discussion on state of research, what has been achieved, what remains to be done — and what should be the new rules of publishing in management research.

INTERESTED? REGISTER NOW!

We'll meet on Saturday, August 11, 10am - 1pm at the Swissôtel Chicago, Lucerne II & III. A registration fee, paid to the Academy, covers the cost of the workshop. It has been sold out every year, so register soon. Seating is limited!

Gautam Ahuja

Chen Xiao Ping

Gerald F. Davis

Alfonso Gambardella

Henrich Greve

Andrew A. King

Sheen S. Levine

Arie Y. Lewin

David Mellor

Anne Rickelt

Jason D. Shaw

Rosalie Tung

Alain Verbeke