Message from the Division Chair

Dear IM Division Members,

We will soon be gathering in Boston for the 79th annual AOM conference. This year's conference, with the theme of "Understanding the Inclusive Organization", offers us the opportunity to reconnect with friends – and to make new ones – while challenging our thinking and expanding our horizons with respect to both teaching and research.

As usual, the IM Division has a full academic program on offer – and we are extremely grateful to Program Chair Jaeyong Song and PDW Chair Katherine Xin for the hard work that has gone into creating a collection of sessions that means that we will all be spoiled for choice.

Katherine's efforts have led to an IM Division PDW program on Friday and Saturday that includes 34 PDWs addressing a wide range of topics pertaining to teaching, research, and the art of publishing – plus the Doctoral and Junior Faculty Consortia (chaired by Jesper Edman and Tatiana Kostova, respectively), the Paper Development Workshop (chaired by Nandini Lahiri), and the ever-popular Meet the IM Editors session (chaired by Prithwiraj Choudhury). There is also the PDW Social Event on Friday – be sure to pre-register in order to combine sightseeing and socializing on the Boston Duck Tour.

Jayeong had the huge job of putting together the program for Sunday, Monday, and Tuesday. (Trust me... it really is a HUGE job!) The program includes 21 symposia and 51 paper sessions, covering the vast array of topics that comprise our field of International Management. In addition to enjoying paper presentations and engaging with the other friendly members of the IM Division, join Juan Alcacer, Tailan Chi, and Robert Salomon for some informal discussion about leading-edge IM issues at the Thought Leadership Café on Monday morning. Monday afternoon has plenty of highlights, including presentations by the finalists for the D'Amore-McKim Northeastern University Best Dissertation Award. After that, join us for the session honouring John Cantwell, the winner of the 2019 PWC Strategy & Eminent Scholar Award. This will be followed by the IM Division Business Meeting, where we will recognize the winners of our various awards; in addition to the paper and dissertation awards, special honorees include Timothy Devinney (IM Division Outstanding Service to the Global Community Award), Julian Birkinshaw (IM Division AmorePacific Outstanding Educator Award), and Stephanie Wang (IM Division FIU Emerging Scholar Award). (Continued on p.2)

Monday will finish with the IM Division Reception, which will take place at the University of Massachusetts Club. Tremendous thanks are due to Denise Dunlap and the Social Committee, who have gone to amazing lengths to make the most of a reduced budget, in order to provide us with an evening that promises to be fun and memorable.

The IM Division runs through the efforts of a remarkably large number of volunteers. Treasurer Malika Richards does an amazing job of watching over the IM Division's finances and serving as a key interface with the AOM office. Chei Hwee Chua, as Chair of the Communications Committee does a remarkable amount of work behind the scenes, overseeing the outward-looking face of the Division (and keeping the rest of us in line – no easy task, indeed!). The IM Division owes huge debts of gratitude to all of the members of our various committees, which are chaired by Aya Chacar (Professional Achievement), Alvaro Cuervo-Cazurra (Eminent Scholar), Denise Dunlap (Social), Carl Fey (Teaching), Tanvi Kothari and Luiz Ricardo Kabbach de Castro (Membership), Sali Li (Online Research Resources), Bill Newburry (Dissertation), Grazia Santangelo (Research), Mohan Song (Doctoral Student), and Ali Taleb (Online Teaching Resources). Please see the IM Division website (<https://im.aom.org/im-division-committees/>), which is ably managed by Dennys Eduardo Rossetto, to learn more about the committees and their membership. If you are interested in joining this group of wonderful IM Division volunteers, please let me know – either via e-mail (e.rose@leeds.ac.uk) or at the conference.

I also want to thank Everlyne Misati, who is stepping down after putting together this newsletter for quite a few years. Thank you, Eve, for your dedication and patience – and warm welcome to our new Communications Officer, Danielle Combs!

There is another key set of volunteers... the IM Division Executive Committee (EC). For the past year, I have had the great pleasure of working with Aya Chacar, Anu Phene, Jaeyong Song, and Katherine Xin as EC members. After the conference, Aya will rotate off the EC – but it is good to know that she will not go far, as she will still be involved as a member of the Professional Achievement Awards committee. Thank you, Aya, for your energy and commitment to the IM Division as a member of the EC for the past five years! At the same time, the EC will gain a new member – please join me in welcoming Bill Newburry, who will be the PDW Chair for the 2020 conference in Vancouver.

We could not do this without our generous sponsors. We are deeply grateful to AmorePacific, CEIBS, Florida International University, George Washington University, CIBER, Georgetown University McDonough School of Business, HKUST, Northeastern University D'Amore-McKim School of Business, and PWC Strategy& for their support of various awards. The IM Division reception is benefitting from sponsorship from the following organizations: Copenhagen Business School, Temple University Fox School of Business, University of Massachusetts Lowell Manning School of Business, University of Minnesota Carlson School of Management, University of San Francisco, University of South Carolina Darla Moore School of Business, and University of Texas at Dallas Naveen Jindal School of Management. Thank you so much to all of our sponsors!

Last – but certainly not least – I want to acknowledge the IM Division members from around the world, who contribute in a myriad of ways, from submitting and presenting their ideas, to serving as reviewers, to helping to create the community that characterizes our Division. When I think of the AOM, I think of the IM Division... and that is due to each and every one of you. Thank you – and see you in Boston!

With best regards,

Beth Rose

AOM 2019 IM Division Main Program Highlights

Welcome, one and all, to Boston, for the 2019 AOM Annual Meeting! We have an exciting line-up of IM-related sessions in store, so do plan on being there for the full conference: August 9-13. The IM Division-sponsored sessions spanning the five days offer a mix of “how-to” workshops that will help you to reinvigorate your research and teaching, presentations of cutting-edge research, interactive symposia with panels of experts, and social events that will allow you to relax and connect with old and new friends.

In addition to the terrific PDW sessions on Friday and Saturday (which Katherine Xin describes elsewhere in the newsletter), on Sunday, Monday, and Tuesday, we have 81 IM Division-sponsored sessions on offer, several in collaboration with other divisions, offering a broad range of insights. Specifically, we have 21 symposia, covering the breadth of the IM field and providing the opportunity for interactive discussion. The 51 paper sessions, including three interactive discussion sessions on Sunday and nine sessions featuring the finalists for IM Division awards, will all take place in the Hilton Boston Back Bay. I can assure you that we will be exposed to some very interesting ideas!

Most of the IM Division paper sessions and symposia will take place in the Hilton Boston Back Bay (HIL). In addition to the paper sessions and symposia, Monday includes some highlights of the program. The IM Division Thought Leadership Café will take place from 8:00 am - 9:30 am in the Belvidere Ballroom, Salon A in HIL. Come and have breakfast, coffee and conversations with our thought leaders Juan Alcacer (Harvard University), Tailan Chi (University of Kansas), and Robert Salomon (New York University), all of whom are innovative and creative researchers. The conversation is certain to be lively, wide-ranging, and thought-provoking.

If you are in the mood for hearing about the research by our new, promising colleagues, the finalists for the D'Amore-McKim School of Business, Northeastern University Best Dissertation Award will present their doctoral research on Monday, 3:00 pm - 4:30 pm, in the Belvidere Ballroom, Salon A in HIL. Stay in the same room, after the thesis session, and attend the PWC Strategy& Eminent Scholar in International Management Award Presentation (4:45 pm - 6:15 pm) and join us in honoring this year's winner, John Cantwell of Rutgers University. We continue with the IM Division Business Meeting (6:30 pm - 8:00 pm in the same room, the Belvidere Ballroom, Salon A in HIL), where you can catch up on the division's news and learn about the winners of our many awards. In addition to recognizing the recipients of the paper and thesis awards, and the best reviewers for the year, we will honor the winners of the IM Division's Outstanding Service to the Global Community Award (Timothy M. Devinney, University of Leeds), the IM Division AmorePacific Outstanding Educator Award (Julian Birkinshaw, London Business School), along with the IM Division FIU Emerging Scholar Award (Stephanie L. Wang, Indiana University). Come and celebrate the excellence that pervades the IM Division!

The celebration will continue at the ever-popular IM Division Reception, which will take place at the University of Massachusetts Club (32nd Floor, 1 Beacon St., Boston, MA 02108) between 8:00 pm and 11:00 pm. The Social Committee has planned an event that is certain to be, as always, the talk of the conference, so make sure to be there.

I want to express my deepest gratitude to everyone who submitted papers and symposium proposals to the IM Division, and to all of those wonderful colleagues who served as reviewers. I appreciate each and every one of you more than I can express. I also want to recognize Byungjun Min of Seoul National University, for his support and assistance.

I look forward to seeing you in Boston!

Jaeyong Song

PWC Strategy& Eminent Scholar Award

This year's winner of the PWC Strategy& Eminent Scholar Award is Professor John Cantwell from Rutgers University in recognition of his lifetime of contribution in the International Business field.

On Monday, August 12 at 4:45 pm at the Hilton Boston Back Bay – Belvidere Ballroom, Salon A, Professor Cantwell will give a short presentation of his work, with comments by Anu Phene (George Washington University) and Lucia Piscitello (University of Reading).

Please join us for this important event to honor Professor Cantwell and to recognize the long standing support for the IM Division by Art Kleiner and the team at Strategy+Business and PWC Strategy&.

IM Division Outstanding Service to the Global Community Award

The IM Division Outstanding Service to the Global Community Award recognizes continuous excellence in serving the international community. While the IM Division provides opportunities to serve the global community, this is not an award for service to our division. Rather, the award's scope is sufficiently broad to recognize service made via many organizations including international institutions, governments, and/or non-governmental organizations. The award favors longstanding service, but impactful service in a concentrated period of time will also be considered.

Congratulations to Timothy M. Devinney, University of Leeds, who is this year's award winner.

IM Division AMOREPACIFIC Outstanding Educator Award

The IM Division AMOREPACIFIC Outstanding Educator Award recognizes continuous excellence and innovation in teaching international management at all levels and in a global context.

Congratulations to Julian Birkinshaw, London Business School, who is this year's award winner.

IM Division FIU Emerging Scholar Award

The IM Division's FIU Emerging Scholar Award recognizes the contribution to international management scholarship by junior scholars.

Congratulations to Stephanie Wang, Indiana University, who is this year's award winner.

AOM 2019 IM Division PDW Program Highlights

We have an interesting and exciting PDW schedule, with many options for diverse interests! Start your conference on Friday, August 9 by participating in your choice of diverse and unique workshops such as Institutions and Entrepreneurship (9:00 am), How to Write Theory Part of a Paper (10:45 am), Doing Comparative Research and Co-creating Knowledge through International Research Networks (12:30 pm), How to Respond to Reviewers: The Dos and Don'ts (1:00 pm), How to Write Articles for Practitioner Journals such as CMR, HBR and SMR (2:30 pm), and Advancing Research Ideas on International Strategic Alliances (4:00 pm).

Take a break on Friday evening and join us to hop on a Boston Duck Boat Tour and experience the best-thing-to-do in Boston and mingle with IM Division executive committee members and fellow IM Division participants (Boarding time: 4:30 pm, departs and returns to the Prudential Center: 53 Huntington Ave, Boston, MA 02116). Please register via the AOM website ahead of time. Seats are limited!

Saturday, August 10 is equally packed. Many participants will be engaged in our Doctoral and Junior Faculty Consortia (starting at 8:30 am), generously hosted off-site by Northeastern University. The respective Chairs, Jesper Edman and Tatiana Kostova, have assembled exciting programs with stellar panelists (pre-registration required). If you do not participate in these consortia, there is still plenty to do – explore interesting workshops such as Researching National Innovation Ecosystems: Institutions, Infrastructures, and Firms (8:00 am), Macro Talent Management: Latest Developments in a Nascent Field (8:00 am), Interactive Exercises Which Help Teach International Business Effectively (9:45 am), Cultural Intelligence: Capabilities in Crossing Cultures & Working in Diverse, Inclusive Teams (9:45 am), Global Innovation and International Strategy: An Integrative Perspective (11:30 am), It's Not Personal, It's Strictly Business: How to Avoid Paper Rejections (1:45 pm), Seeking Synergies Between Case Teaching, Case Writing and Academic Research (2:45 pm), and Digitization, Platforms and Ecosystems: Implications for International Business Theory and Practice (5:00 pm). Many participants will enjoy the "Meet the IM Editors session" (4:00 pm) organized by Session Chair, Prithwiraj Choudhury. Please come to hear from and interact with a panel of who's who of the editors of key journals. Lastly, you are welcome to attend the Paper Development Workshop (6:00 pm) organized by Nandini Lahiri as the last event on Saturday. Participants will get a chance to get candid and developmental feedback from senior and highly experienced scholars (pre-registration required).

See you in Boston!

Katherine Xin
PDW Chair

Interactive Exercises Which Help Teach International Business Effectively

Saturday, August 10, 9:45 am – 11:45 am, Hilton Boston Back Bay, Fenway Ballroom

Organizer: Carl F. Fey (Aalto U.)

Presenters: Carl F. Fey (Aalto U.), Gerhard Apfelthaler (California Lutheran U.) Stéphane Girod (IMD), Harry Lane (Northeastern U.), and Joyce Osland (San Jose State U.)

This session exposes participants to several different interactive exercises which can help teach international business more effectively. Different from many sessions, participants will get to try out the interactive exercises either in full or partly depending on the length of the exercise. There will be three rounds and participants can choose which interactive exercise they want to learn about and try in each round. Thus, participants will leave the session being able to add several interesting interactive exercises to their courses. The session is facilitated by a group of professors who excel at teaching and have many years of experience who will share their tips for effective teaching with participants.

Seeking Synergies Between Case Teaching, Case Writing and Academic Research

Saturday, August 10, 2:45 pm – 4:45 pm, Hilton Boston Back Bay, Westminster Room

Organizer: S. Ramakrishna Velamuri, China Europe International Business School

Facilitators: Feng Zhu (Harvard U.), Hong Luo (Harvard U.), and Misiek Piskorski (IMD)

US-style business education has spread throughout the world, the popularity of the case study method has grown steadily. According to the Boston Globe, Harvard Business School, the pioneer of the case study method, sold 13.2 million case copies in 2015. The Case Center, which claims to hold the world's largest and most diverse collection of cases, has more than 500 members in 56 countries. At the same time as US-style business education has been diffusing both in developed and emerging economies, business schools in these countries are gradually adopting research standards that are similar to those at leading US research institutions. The case study method of pedagogy has many strengths that have been extensively documented. However, case teaching and case writing are also very time consuming activities, particularly for junior tenure-track faculty trying to meet tough research targets in a limited time period. Are there potential synergies between case teaching, case writing and academic research that can be leveraged by faculty members? What are the areas of potential synergies and how can they best be exploited? These are the questions that the professional development workshop will tackle. The facilitators are case teachers who have developed a large number of their own teaching cases. They have also published a number of articles in top-tier peer reviewed journals.

He co-authored Emerging Market Multinationals: Managing Operational Challenges for Sustained International Growth (2016, Cambridge University Press), and has co-edited two additional books.

He is looking forward to his involvement with the International Management Division at the Academy of Management!

Message from the Communications Committee Chair

Dear IM Division members,

AOM HQ has implemented a brand new online community, "Connect@AOM", to provide a more robust interactive experience for our members, replacing the familiar Listserv platform.

Connect@AOM requires a member log-in to participate or contribute to the discussion forum.

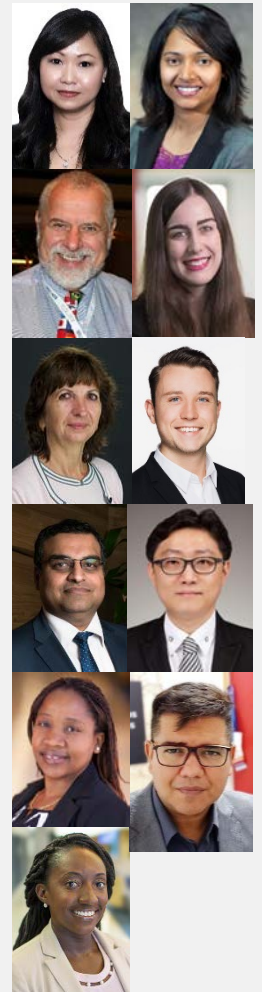

Please go to <https://connect.aom.org/getstarted> to read the Connect@AOM User Guide to learn how to log-in and participate. Its content includes: (1) How to login, (2) Edit your profile, (3) Join a community, (4) Start a discussion, (5) Reply to a discussion, (6) Email and community notification settings, and (7) How to find members and add contacts. Our division's community name is "International Management (IM)". With this platform migration, Charles Wankel, our division's IMD L-LIST Director is now IM Division Community Lead Administrator and Moderator. Joining his team as IM Division Community Administrators and Moderators are Antonina (Tonya) Bauman and Hussain Rammal.

I would like to express my gratitude to Everlyne Misati for her dedicated service and contributions to the Communications Committee and our division for the past five years as Communications Officer. Taking over her role is Danielle Combs, whose first task has been to co-edit this newsletter with me.

Our committee's Photography Team, consisting of Rimi Zakaria (Photography Manager and Lead Photographer), Raquel Garcia-Garcia (Photographer), and Marius Brand (Photographer), need your help at the forthcoming AOM Annual Meeting in Boston. Please see page 7 of this newsletter for Rimi's call for volunteer photographers. Being a volunteer photographer for our division is a fun and friendly way to get to know other division members when you interact with them to take their photos. I hope many of you will contact Rimi at zakariar@uww.edu to volunteer your service. Many thanks in advance!

Last but not least, I would like to take this opportunity to thank the Communications Committee members mentioned above, as well as Sahrok Kim (Facebook Group Admin Manager) and Dennys Eduardo Rossetto (Webmaster), for their service to the committee and our division. Each of them has specialized skills that are necessary for the smooth functioning of the committee in order to serve the division's communication needs.

Message from the Membership Drive Committee

Membership Drive Committee (MDC) members will be participating in the following events during the 2019 AOM Annual Meeting to represent the IM Division.

New Member Welcome Reception

Friday, Aug 9, 5:00 pm - 6:30 pm, at Hynes Convention Center, Level 3, Room 302

We will provide a brief overview of your member benefits to discover how to get the greatest value from your membership. The Orientation transitions into the Exhibit Hall Opening Reception from 6:00 pm – 8:00 pm, which is where MDC members will be at the designated IM Division table to meet and connect with both new and seasoned members. This event will kick off with the Exhibitor Opening Reception, and include a participation ice breaker game, "Passport to Prizes." Collect your card at the beginning of the orientation and you'll be entered into a drawing for some great prizes awarded at the end of the evening! No sign up is required. We look forward to seeing you there!

AOM New Doctoral Student Consortium (NDSC) (pre-registration required)

Saturday, Aug 10, 8:00 am - 4:00 pm at Hynes Convention Center in 311

The purpose of this event is to introduce new Ph.D. students to the various AOM divisions and interest groups, as well as to provide an opportunity for the divisions and interest groups to attract new members. The NDSC is committed to facilitating doctoral students' initial experience with, and further integration into, the Academy of Management and the academic community at large

New Attendee Welcome Room

Friday-Monday, 8:00 am - 5:00 pm & Tuesday 8 am – 3 pm at Hynes Convention Center, directly across the hall from Registration.

Hosted by the Membership Committee, the New Attendee Welcome Room is for all new attendees – whether you are a new member or it is your first meeting – this is your go-to place for questions about your schedule, membership, or if you simply need a quiet respite between sessions. Academy membership staff will be available to greet you, be sure to stop by and say hello! You can contact us online anytime. You can email the committee directly at mdc.imdivision.aom@gmail.com or email a specific committee member.

We look forward to meeting and getting to know you at this year's AOM Annual Meeting!
