THE UNIVERSITY OF ALABAMA®

The University of Alabama Culverhouse College of Business Administration is inviting applications for an Assistant or Associate Professor position in Entrepreneurship. This is a very exciting time for Entrepreneurship at The University of Alabama and in the Culverhouse College of Business. Under the leadership of Dean Kay Palan, the College has made enhancing our academic capabilities in Entrepreneurship a strategic priority.

The ideal candidate will be an innovative, productive researcher with a record of successful, student-centric teaching to help us continue to build our research capability, culture, and impact. Our new colleague will join a diverse team of Entrepreneurship scholars including Craig Armstrong, Paul Drnevich, Vishal Gupta, Will Jackson, Lou Marino, Jeffrey Martin, and Theresa Welbourne. We are seeking to fill the position at the Assistant or Associate Professor rank with preference given to candidates with a proven publication record. We are open to a broad range of research foci but are especially interested in those focusing on entrepreneurial behavior (macro or micro) or cognitions, HR in entrepreneurship, entrepreneurial teams, and growth in entrepreneurial firms. Our Entrepreneurship program offers classes at the Doctoral, MBA and undergraduate levels and is housed in the Management Department.

The University is a leader among public universities nationwide in the enrollment of National Merit Scholars with more than 940 currently enrolled. U.S. News and World Report ranks The University of Alabama, which holds the Carnegie R1: Doctoral Universities – Very High Research Activity status and the Manderson Graduate School of Business is No. 22 among public universities. University enrollment reached a record high of 38,320 for Fall 2021 including an entering freshman class at 7,593 students.

The Culverhouse College of Business has an enrollment of 9,612 students (8,731 undergraduate students and 881 graduate students) representing all 50 states with 38.9% of students from Alabama, 58.8% from out-of-state, and 2.3% are international. Of our out-of-state students the greatest numbers are from Georgia, Texas, Illinois, Florida, Tennessee, and California. For 2020-2021 the Culverhouse College of Business was ranked by U.S. News & World Report #44 in the nation overall and 28th among public business schools for 2020-2021. Culverhouse hosts 11 Outreach and Research Centers including the Alabama Entrepreneurship Institute, which is housed at the University's business incubator, The Edge. The institute's Executive Director, Theresa Welbourne, is working within the college and across campus to build a world class entrepreneurship program. This vision is supported by the Dean, and the entrepreneurship program is a strategic priority in the college's recently launched fundraising campaign.

Tuscaloosa, the home of The University of Alabama, is a vibrant and growing city with a population of approximately 103,000. Tuscaloosa and the surrounding area offer a variety of Performing Arts, entertainment, and outdoor recreation options the the city has received a National Civic League All-America City Award. One of our main employers apart for the University is Mercedes-Benz, which has a favorable impact on the economy and helps mix European culture with Tuscaloosa's renowned southern hospitality. With pristine gulf shore beaches only a 5-hour drive from Tuscaloosa, mountains close in for hiking and cities like Birmingham, Atlanta, and New Orleans all within reach, Tuscaloosa is a great place to work, live and thrive.
